

Travel Expenses Support for Seminar Participants

Guideline for “OLIS 2026 Spring”

Objectives: This support program is to award full or partial reimbursement for travel expenses to the selected participants, whose companies/organizations have a budget difficulty. We are to fulfill our purpose of organization foundation, aiming to widely contribute to the development of life insurance in Asia by training people who wish to study life insurance and by deepening international mutual understanding with this program.

1. Support details

As set forth in the Outlines of OLIS 2026 Spring (13. Travel Expenses Support Program), Oriental Life Insurance Cultural Development Center shall bear a full or partial cost of a round-trip airplane ticket for a company/organization if we approve its application for a financial assistance. The amount we bear shall be an actual cost of the purchased ticket. Note, however, that we shall set the maximum reimbursable amount by each country based on the lowest available rate at the time of screening. We shall reimburse a company/organization for the actual ticket purchased or the maximum reimbursable amount, whichever is less. As a reference, the maximum amount based on the rate as of January 27, 2026 is attached to this guideline. Please see a Reference page.

2. Applicable Ticket

The reimbursable tickets shall be the flight which arrives at the Narita airport between 7:00 and 15:00 or at the Haneda airport between 8:00 and 16:00 on May 20, 2026.
